work

Stichting Zesbaans

I am founding member of Zesbaans, a new media collective that since 2012 is based in Amsterdam. Zesbaans' projects range from gallery expositions to nightlife installations, with an emphasis on technology and interactivity. Zesbaans consists of young designers with backgrounds in digital media design, interaction design, motion graphics, VJ-ing and technology. Current other members are Max Italiaander, Juul Spee, Mitchel Tan and Harm van de Ven.
2007 - now

Eelke.net — Freelance interactive media designer & developer

I design and realise interactive media, often in a physical form. I work on concept-development, writing software, and connecting the digital with the real world. Work ranges from web design & development, mobile applications and interactive installations to performances, research and giving masterclasses & workshops. I worked for cross-media companies, artists, designers, museums and global brands.

Résistance Électronique / VJ

Founder and one third of VJ-collective Résistance Électronique. Besides doing many, many VJ performances at venues, clubs, festivals, happenings and fashion shows we produced independent and commissioned videos, and developed interactive audiovisual installations and performances.
2004 - 2009
